

Use the internet to provide me with a passenger list for the Duchess of Argyle sailing ship

I found a couple of sources that mention the "Duchess of Argyle" sailing ship:

1. PASSENGER LISTS Denise & Peter's Home Page - Immigrant Ships

- This site provides various passenger lists for immigrant ships. The "Duchess of Argyle" is mentioned to have departed from Greenock, Scotland, on 9 June 1842 and arrived in Auckland, New Zealand, on 9 Oct 1842.
- Link to the source

2. New Zealand Settler Ships - Duchess of Argyle 1842 - Geni.com

- This source provides information about the "Duchess of Argyle" being the first planned shipment of free UK migrants to Auckland. The ship arrived in Auckland harbour and disembarked via ships' boats on Mechanics Bay at low tide.
- Link to the source

3. PASSENGER LISTS AUCKLAND - Immigrant Ships

- This site provides various passenger lists for ships arriving in Auckland. The "Duchess of Argyle" is again mentioned to have departed from Glasgow, Scotland, on 9 June 1842 and arrived in Auckland, New Zealand, on 9 October 1842.
- Link to the source

To obtain a detailed passenger list for the "Duchess of Argyle," you might need to visit the specific links provided or contact relevant archives or institutions in New Zealand that may have historical records of immigrant ships.

